you feel the good that's done by Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cleanses, regulates and invigorates Stomach, Liver and Bowels and so purifies the blood. And through the blood, it cleanses, repairs, and invigorates the whole system.

In recovering from "grippe," or in convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, or other exhausting diseases, nothing can equal it as an appetizing, restorative tonic to build up needed flesh and strength. It rouses every organ into natural action, promotes all the bodily functions, and restores health and vigor.

For every disease that comes from foul or Weak Stomach, a torpid Liver or impure Blood, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, and the most stubborn Skin, Scalp, or Scrofulous affections, the "Discovery" is a sovereign remedy. Don't be hypnotized, wheedled, or over persuaded into accepting a substitute only that some selfish medicine seller may make a greater profit on the inferior article. The "Discovery", has a great record of nearly forty years with thousands of cures behind it.

Dear Sir—Several years ago my blood became impoverished and I became run down in health. I had no appetite, could not sleep, and was practically unfitted for work. Suffered from innumerable boils and was in bad shape. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery relieved me of my wretched condition. The medicine built up my system and restored me to a normal condition of health. I can speak most highly also, of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as it has been used in my family for years in cases of female trouble.

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Public School Work.

Theological Seminary, Va.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

Dear Sir: Will you kindly give space to a few suggestions in regard to public school houses in our country districts.

The recent happy impulse toward a higher standard for the public school work, and the whole hearted recognition of the conscientious, faithful, unobtrusive labors of the public school teachers indicates that this is a subject of general interest which its importance fully testifies. There are two points to which the writer would attract attention, through your courtesy. The first is the indisposition of wealthy or well-born people, so-called, to patronize the country public schools; the second, the condition of the school houses themselves whether they are Calculated to attract cultivated minds, or satisfy refined tastes.

The first question, as to the attitude of well-to-do country people toward the public schools, is very interesting. I have heard people say repeatedly: "The great problem of country life is how to educate one's children." They are oblivious, apparently, that if one throws a stone one may strike a public school house in one's own neighborhood. Governesses with piles of recommendatory letters from bishops, priests and deacons are every where, in many cases accomplishing very little. Small private schools drag along, affording a scanty education to the pupils, and a scanty livelihood to the teachers—and every where the public school is passed by.

Why is this? Partly, I think, because of a prejudice which is dying a slow death—partly because the public school houses are inferior to the teaching patiently offered day by day by faithful women within those unattractive walls. The writer can well recall twenty years ago hearing a gentlewoman of the old school in Alexandria lamenting her inability to afford her sons an education, protesting in the same breath that they should never go to the public schools "with common people's children." She comforted her loving heart with the thought that, though uneducated, the distinguished name they bore would always give them "an assured position in society." A few parents still think this way, but in so thinking prove their inexperience. The old name alone, unsupported by other qualities, might insure recognition in the home circle in Alexandria, or Berryville, or Fairfax Court House; but how much would it be worth in the rush and struggle and competition of New York, or Chicago, or London?

Now, the wise parent is disposed to say, "Let me send my child where he will receive the best and fairest and most thorough training," and prefers not to make a fool of him by shutting him up in a glass case. The wise parent does not want to send out into the world a poorly-equipped, self-satisfied, conceited, purse-proud, narrow-minded child; the parent does well to remember that in the democratic school-room the boy or girl must hold a place, as must the man or woman in society, by right of merit, by intelligence and work and descent deportment. Neither his pedigree nor his bank account will win for him the prizes which the brainier and more disciplined sons of butchers and bakers and candlestick makers capture under his very eyes. If he does not learn at school to regard himself as one, perhaps a very unimportant one of many, and to adjust himself early to existing conditions he is likely to acquire this knowledge later, at the cost of many a humiliating experience and hard knock.

For special lines of study, for sweet and gentle influence, private schools are undeniably necessary, and the writer has reason to bless the generous course of many such, and to wish them all long life and all prosperity, but the protest cannot be too strong against the idea that private schools are for rich men's children and public schools for poor men's children. This is false and unjust. Many a silly mother, in order to show that she can afford "to pay" sends her girl to an expensive private school, where she learns, perhaps, to recognize an imported hat or a tailor-made dress, or a disreputable actor at sight, but where she learns little of real value. Many another mother, unable to pay, and equally silly, keeps her daughter at home, and lets her grow up ignorant rather than openly admit her poverty by sending her girl to a public school. Many an ambitious mother, meaning well by her children and little realizing how ridiculous she makes herself, snubs those who were her friends, and sends her children in the wake of "rich peoples' children."

Thus injustice is done on all sides, and in every case the child is the sufferer.

What is more calculated to foster that spirit of brotherly love toward which our race, thank God, is moving, than the bringing together of rich and poor, in the innocence of childhood—under the roof of a common school? The children of the rich need to learn modesty and a fair appreciation of the superior qualities of others; the children of the poor need confidence in themselves and in their destiny, and they get it when they march to the head of the class. Just so long as the front seats in our churches are reserved for the good clothes, and the back seats for the shabby Christians just so long as the rich man fears contamination for his child, in the public school, and the poor man's child is made to feel the disadvantages of his conditions just so far do we retard the coming of that kingdom for which we daily pray. And now a word on the second point—the appearance and condition, of the average country school house. It is, in architecture, a sort of a cross between a barn and a hen-house, it is as ugly and cheap as man can make it. We all know that now, in cities, the school-rooms are as beautiful and hygenic as air and sunshine and blossoming plants and music and pictures and soap and a broom can make them; and we know that many of the most beautiful and accomplished and fashionable young women in society are public school graduates, and are proud of it. Well, in the country, we cannot ask for all this; but we can say that, if the public school wants children from clean refined and comfortable homes, it must furnish them a clean, refined and comfortable school room. The child whose home is attractive and sweet cannot love an ugly school house; nor should its mother send it to a wretched, unsanitary place; the school must be as decent as the home. The child whose home is disorderly and foul and poor, should find in his school house an ideal of something better, an example of something finer and cleaner and more self respecting than his home affords.

As the country school houses are renewed, let them be a little more attractive, externally, not so uncompromising in their ugliness; let people stop saying "that is only a public school house" as if the name were a synonym for unattractiveness. Let the appearance of the school house be such as to make apology unnecessary. Neat, sanitary, well-proportioned; designed and built with a little good taste.

Educational rallies and orations from distinguished city gentlemen are good things in their way, but inviting and attractive school houses, worthy of the faithful service rendered within their walls, will speak in their own behalf to the passer-by, whether he rolls by in his carriage, or plods along with his axe on his shoulder. That sort of a public school could plead its own cause with silent eloquence. A MOTHER.

CRISIS OF GIRLHOOD

A TIME OF PAIN AND PERIL

Miss Emma Cole Says that Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has Saved Her Life and Made Her Well

How many lives of beautiful young girls have been sacrificed just as they were ripening into womanhood! How many irregularities or displacements have been developed at this important period, resulting in years of suffering!

Miss Emma Cole

Girls' modesty and oversensitiveness often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians, because they withhold their confidence at this critical period.

A mother should come to her child's aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start the menstrual period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Miss Emma Cole of Tullahoma, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I want to tell you that I am enjoying better health than I have for years, and I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"When fourteen years of age I suffered almost constant pain, and for two or three years I had soreness and pain in my side, headaches and was dizzy and nervous, and doctors all failed to help me.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking it my health began to improve rapidly, and I think it saved my life. I sincerely hope my experience will be a help to other girls who are passing from girlhood to womanhood, for I know your Compound will do as much for them."

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice ask her to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will receive free advice which will put her on the right road to a strong healthy and happy womanhood.

Furious Fighting.

A LETTER from King George county to the Richmond Times-Dispatch says:

"When the campaign opened and up to several weeks ago, Governor Montague had the inside track here in the senatorial race. Indeed, King George was practically a Montague stronghold, with the exception of one small section of the county. Without a single campaign speech or a political meeting of any kind, the tide has turned; and, if the primary election were held now or within the next week, Senator Martin would receive two-thirds of the vote of the county; i. e., two-thirds of the vote polled. "Did Martin workers thus revolutionize things in so short a time?" is asked. No, indeed, they didn't. They are not in the saddle as yet. Governor Montague's Norfolk speech, or, rather, the newspaper accounts of that, and, indeed, of other speeches, too, did the work.

This is the state of affairs which, it is said, exists throughout the State, but a surprise is that the above ever found a place in the columns of a Richmond paper, for it is a well-known fact that the papers published in that city are not seeking anti-Montague or pro-Martin intelligence.

A DUAL CHURCH service was a feature in Waukegan, Illinois, last Sunday. The pastor had been called a Puritan for denouncing card-playing, dancing, &c., on the part of church members, and he was formally dismissed from his charge. Like the late Edwin M. Stanton, he concluded to "stick," and as a result another preacher was in the pulpit Sunday morning. A struggle ensued between the choir and many in the church, two hymns being sung at the same time and one faction trying to sing the other down. The trouble was finally brought to a close by the original pastor and his supporters marching out.

THE Vienna Die Zeit's Constantinople correspondent reiterates the story that the Italian government ten days ago sent ten warships to the coast of Yemen, Arabia and refuses to withdraw them until the Turkish government makes amends for the murder in Yemen of Italian subjects. Turkey's lack of sovereignty in Yemen makes this impossible, and the situation is, therefore, considered grave. The Moroccan question is again causing anxiety in France. The Moroccans have virtually rejected French overtures. The world seems restive and no one can tell what a day may bring forth.

MRS. MAMIE BRACKETT, who died at her home in Kansas City, Mo., yesterday, adds another victim to Christian science. Her death resulted from injuries received in a gasoline explosion in her kitchen on Sunday morning. A Christian Scientist herself, she insisted that Christian Scientists treat her case. She was surrounded by them when she died. One of the Scientists asserts that Mrs. Brackett did not suffer pain after they began to treat her, but neighbors assert that she was in continual agony. There was no other medical treatment.

A MOVEMENT has been started by Rev. A. W. McConnell, pastor of a Presbyterian Church in Des Moines, Iowa, toward inducing people to attend church in plain clothing. He is fully persuaded that the dress issue is the great barrier between the leading churches and poorer class. The latter, it is believed, purposely absent themseves from places of worship simply because their wearing apparel does not compare favorably with their more opulent spiritual brothers and sisters.

THE OFFICIAL organ of the Iron Workers' Union in the building trades has come out with a warning against the election of socialists as officers or delegates of trades unions, on the ground that, while professedly friendly, socialists are at heart enemies of trades unionism, seeking only to involve the movement in difficulties. This is precisely the view held by the Gazette on this subject and repeatedly expressed since the introduction of socialism into the politics of this country.

IF THIS government will agree to reduce its tariff rates on German gimcracks the German government will make corresponding reductions on American corn, pork, beef and other farm products. In the answer to this offer of tariff war or tariff reciprocity the farmers of the United States will find whether the interest of the owners of the factories or the fields gets the first consideration.

Bomb Laboratory Raided.

Riga, June 6.—The police today discovered a laboratory at the Phoenix Foundry, which had been fitted up for the manufacture of bombs. Fifty bombs were seized as well as a quantity of arms. The men who were working in the laboratory offered armed resistance to the police, but were overcome and placed under arrest.

Resigned from Equitable Company.

Philadelphia, June 6.—President A. J. Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, today confirmed the report that he has resigned from the Equitable Company.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., June 6.

The State Department, in response to an inquiry from the Russian government through Ambassador Meyer, has informed St. Petersburg of the action taken in respect to the Russian vessels at manila. A dispatch to the State Department from U. S. Consul General Rogers at Shangahi announces that there are at Woosung, the port of Shanghai, seven Russian colliers which will be interned by order of the Chinese government. It is reported, he says, that these are a number of Japanese vessels off Gutzlaff. The Russian torpedo boat destroyer Bodry has been interned at Shanghai.

It is understood that Admiral Enquist, in command of the battered Russian vessels which sought refuge in Manila harbor, does not relish the peremptory orders which were sent to him from Washington. Admiral Enquist, it is learned, has asked that he at least be given time to make his vessels seaworthy and to be allowed to take on more coal. Whether he is waiting to hear from his government on the subject of the internement of his ships or is contemplating making an effort to escape to Vladivostok or some French port is not known. It is certain, however, that the Russians will not be permitted to increase their fighting strength while lying in an American port.

Ambassador Durand, of Great Britain, who returned to Washington last night presumably on account of the tentative negotiations for peace in the far East that have been set on foot here, called at the White House this afternoon, but merely left his card for the President. He stated that he had no appointment with the President. Previous to the call of Ambassador Durand, the French Ambassador had a half hour's conference with the President at the conclusion of which he stated that so far as he knew no substantial progress in the interests of peace had been made.

At this morning's session of the trial of William G. Crawford, who was jointly indicted with August W. Machen and Geo E. Lorenz, for conspiracy to defraud the United States government in connection with the purchase of letter carrier supplies, a number of character witness were put on the stand. Justice White, of the United States Supreme Court; Justice Hagner, formerly of the District Supreme Court and a former chief clerk in the Postoffice Department, were among the number called. Crawford, the defendant, was put on the stand in his own behalf. He stated that he came to Washington to accept a position in the auditing department of the postoffice. He resigned his position upon the accession of the republican administration. Later he accepted a position with the Postal Lock and Devise Co., of New York. He told of the introduction of the mail bags made by his firm into use by the government.

In the opinion of officers of the army and the navy, the forthcoming joint maneuvers to be held in Chesapeake bay will be the most important military operations ever held in this country. For the first time since the regeneration of the army and navy of the United States and the adoption by this country of modern engines of warfare, the defenses of Washington and Baltimore are to receive a severe test under actual conditions of war. The greatest secrecy will be maintained by the navy during the coming operations. All that is known by the army is that some time after midnight next Sunday sixteen war ships, under the command of Rear-Admiral Francis W. Dickins, will attempt to force a passage past powerful Fortress Monroe up the Potomac to Washington. Beginning at that time search lights from Fort Monroe and from the strong fortifications around Baltimore and on the Potomac will sweep the bay and the river to detect the swift destroyers and powerful armor-clads which have the two cities as an objective. The maneuvers will last just a week. During that period the ships will be expected to pass Fort Monroe, all the fortifications on the Potomac guarding this city and also to make an attack upon the city of Baltimore. Even should the umpires decide that the fleet failed to get pass Fort Monroe this will not terminate the maneuvers. The fleet will be regarded as having been reinforced and gotten by this fort in order that all the fortifications in the district might be tested.

Secretary Wilson, of the Agricultural Department, said this morning after the Cabinet meeting that the charges made by the Southern Cotton Association to the effect that there has been a "leak" in the department by which the reports collected by the government have fallen into the bands of interested parties are ridiculous on their face. He added, however, that he would make an investigation of the affair at once and if he finds that some man in the department has been gossipping will make an example of him.

Word has been received indicating that the commercial bodies of Manila and throughout the Philippine Islands are making great preparations for the reception and entertainment of the party of American statesmen under Secretary of War Taft which is to visit the islands this summer. There will be welcoming fetes, a magnificent harbor display, and a banquet of many interesting and unusual features. Some of the delicacies for the feast are to be furnished by Australia and many officials from Hongkong and Canton have expressed a desire to be present.

Orders were issued by the War Department today relieving Maj. Gen. John C. Bates from command of the northern division of the army and assigning him to duty in Washington. On June 15 Gen. Bates will suceed Gen. Geo. L. Gillespie as assistant chief of staff. Brigadier General Theodore J. Wint is assigned to temporary command of the northern division.

It is announced at the War Department that Maj. J. Kerman, 26th Infantry, and Capt. M. Wright, 3d Infantry have been detailed for dnty as members of the Army General Staff to fill, respectively, the vacancies caused by the recent promotion of Major Irons and the detailof Capt. Frank McIntyre as assistant chief of the bureau of insular affairs.

Secretary Morton announced today after the Cabinet meeting that the state funeral of John Paul Jones would probably be held on September 23d, the anniversary of his battle with the Serapis. "This date has not been definitely decided upon, but will be set if we find that the President can attend."

The rumor of the assassination of the Czar was circulated here this morning, but there was no confirmation in either official or diplomatic circles.

News of the Day.

The rejection by the Sultan of Morocco of the French reform proposals threaten to cause a crisis in the French Ministry. Great Britain, France, Spain and Russia are likely to decline the Sultan's proposals to submit the French scheme to on international conference.

Samuel Lobley, of New York, who confessed to taking part in an alleged conspiracy by which the Equitable Life Assurance Society was induced to loan $55,000 on a life insurance policy yesturday confessed and was sentenced to eight years in Sing Sing prison.

Mr. Charles J. Bonaparte, who will succeed Paul Morton as Secretary of the Navy on the latter's retirement from the Cabinet, on July 1, was a guest of President Roosevelt at luncheon yesterday. It was stated that Mr. Bonaparte's visit was not of particular significance.

In New York, Charles H. Hyde, representing Justice William J. Gaynor and the other executors of the estate of the late William Ziegler, filed the will of Mr. Ziegler. Mr. Ziegler leaves his residuary estate to his adopted son, William Ziegler, now 14 years of age. A conservative estimate of the estate is said to be $30,000,000 as it stands, but this sum will undoubtedly be largely increased by the time the young man reaches his majority, at which time he will enter into the enjoyment of an income probably exceeding $1,000,000 a year.

Richard Cheatham, of Atlanta, Georgia, secretary of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association, has gone to Washington to call President Roosevelt's attention to what he considers gross irregularities in both the preparation and the publication of the government information concerning the condition of the cotton crop issued last Friday. Mr. Cheatham has with him documentary evidence which he will submit to the President. He will make no charges of bribery or any other crime, but will ask for a rigid investigation, and ask that the resignation of one of the important employes in the statistical bureau of the Department of Agriculture be demanded.

Shea Sent to Jail.

Cornelius P. Shea, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, and leader in the strike which has existed in Chicago for the last two months, was arrested and taken to jail last night. With him on the journey from the saloon in which he was arrested to the office of the sheriff, and then to the jail, was Hugh McGee, president of the Truck Drivers' Union Both men were taken into custody on a capias issued on indictments charging them with conspiracy which were voted by the grand jury that adjourned last Saturday night.

It was the understanding at the office of Sheriff Barrett that President Shea, who was aware of the indictment returned against him, would appear at his office during the day and give bonds, He failed to do so, and Deputy Sheriffs Robert Wilson and Martin Honan went after him.

Shea several times broke into violent language, and the sheriff warned him that he would be given but little time to prepare bonds if he did not cease his abusive language.

"I don't know that even if you did say that I should go to jail whether that would settle it," replied Shea.

"I'll show you whether it would settle it," said the sheriff. Turning to Deputies Honan and Wilson he commanded them to take Shea to jail immediately.

Shea saw that he had gone too far, and attempted to say something to the sheriff, but the deputies took him quickly into the hall and from there to the street, where they hailed a cab and took him to jail. President McGee followed in another cab, and in a few minutes the men were inside the jail. Both were searched, according to the usual customs by Jailer Whitman, and were then taken to cells and locked up.

After being a prisoner for a little more than two hours both Shea and McGee were released, their attorneys having procured bonds which were approved by Judge Tuthill.

Albert Young, formerly president of the International Teamsters' Union, for whom a warrant was issued, charging him with criminal libel in connection with assertions made that Robert J. Thorne, secretary of Montgomery Ward & Co., had offered $10,000 to have a strike declared against a rival house, was arrested yesterday afternoon. He gave a bond of $5,000 for his appearance when wanted.

CRISIS IN RUSSIA.

Emperor Nicholas's ukase virtually creating Governor General Trepoff dictator has given rise to a mighty sensation in St. Petersburg. It is the imperial recognition of the crisis in the internal affairs of Russia, and instinctively recalled the step taken by the Emperor's grandfather, Alexander II, immediately after the attempt to blow up the Winter Palace, in 1880, when he appointed a commission of public safety headed by Gen. Loris-Melikoff, except that the posittion of Gen. Trepoff will be more analogous to that occupied by Loris-Melikoff when later in the same year he was appointed minister of the interior, with full control of the police.

"Reaction and repression" doubtless will be the quick interpretation put upon the Emperor's act as soon as it becomes known to the liberals. Buried in the columns of the Official Messenger, and coming almost without warning, the ukase is not as yet generally known, but to the initiated the future of Constantine Petrovitch Pobiedonostzeff, chief procurator of the holy synod, looms large.

On the surface of things it looks ominously like the placing of Trepoff at the helm to deal with the internal crisis which the determination to pursue the war is apt to cause. Indeed, there are rumors that a general mobilization has already been decided upon, and that the appointment of Trepoff was made so as to enable the government to carry it out.

The union of Russian journalists yesterday chartered a steamer and cruised in the Neva for six hours so as to hold a meeting free from police interference. The meeting passed a resolution demanding a constituent assembly and hailing the advent of a Russian revolution.

The more radical of the delegates are proposing measures of an extreme type, and there is the greatest anxiety over the probable developments today.

Deaths and Damage by Storms.

An electrical storm which seems to have been going through lower Michigan yesterday took the form of a tornado in the "thump" district. Through the counties of Tuscola and Sanilac it swept a path of death and devastation half a mile wide. Three people were killed and a number injured. In addition to he above, Elsie Appleman, aged twelve years, was killed by lightning at Hemlock, in Saginaw county, and George Morrow was fatally injured by lightning at Central Lake, in Charlevoix county. Three men who had taken refuge with Morrow in a vacant building also sustained severe shocks. The home of John Smith, near Urban, was razed. Here one child, Mary Smith, was killed outright, and it is feared that another who is missing is buried under the ruins. Farmer Smith himself had an arm broken, one of his children had an arm torn off, and another is fatally injured. One child of Edward Philpotts was killed near Urban, where the Philpotts' residence was blown from its foundations, three others of the Philpotts children are expected to die, and the father was seriously injured. Three others were fatally injured in the district near Urban. Near Colwood the house and barn of James H. Mulholland were destroyed and the same fate overtook the home of Thomas Seeley. Near Cass City thirteen residences and nineteen barns were blown down "

The worst tornado that ever visited Binghamton, N. Y., blew down a large number of houses and barns in the fifth and sixth wards of that city last night. This is the section south of the Susquehanna river. The tornado destroyed every thing in its narrow path for several blocks, but so far as reported, no one was killed and only one person was badly injured, in spite of the fact that a dozen or more occupied houses were demolished or badly wrecked.

Great damage was done Sunday night in Caroline county, Va., by a windstorm of great violence. Miles of the telegraph line were blown down, one of the poles striking a train on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, damaging the express coach and wrapping wires around the trucks so that one car left the track as Milford was reached. The track of the storm was twenty miles wide, and in places hail fell furiously.

Childs Mansion Sold.

Mrs. Anna M. Weightman Walker, daughter of the late William Weightman, whose fortune of $60,000,000 was left to her, yesterday became the owner of the famous marble home of the late George W. Childs, founder of the Public Ledger, at the southeast corner of Twenty-second and Walnut streets, Philadelphia. The price paid was $80,000. The property was sold under the hammer at the city hall by Sheriff Miles, under foreclosure proceedings brought by Mrs. Walker to recover a mortgage and interest amounting to $68,547.92. The lot has a frontage of 48 feet on Walnut street and a depth of 148.6 feet to Osborn street. Many apartment houses have been proposed for the site since the death of Mr. Childs, but none have as yet materialized.

State Committee.

State Chairman J. Taylor Ellyson, of the democratic committee, has called a meeting of that body at Murphy's Hotel Richmond the night of June 15 to arrange the State primary for the nomination of a United States Senator and State officers. It is thought that this will take place about the middle of August. Whether or not Mr. Ellyson will decide to retire from the chairmanship on account of his candidacy for Lieutenant-Governor is interesting many. His friends say there is no necessity for his giving up the position he has so well filled for 12 years or more, but there is a belief that he will resign. If he does former Secretary of the Commonwealth Joseph T. Lawless, of Norfolk, may be elected.

Today's Telegraphic News

Royal Wedding.

Berlin, June 6.—Prince Frederick William, crown prince of the German empire, and the twenty-seventh lineal descendant of Conrad, the founder of the Hohenzollern house, was married today in the chapel of the Berlin Imperial Palace to the Duchess Cecilia, of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, grandniece of the Czar of Russia. The ceremony was attended by over a thousand invited guests, including members of nearly all the reigning families of the world. Officially the people of Berlin did not participate in any part or the wedding ceremony. There was no procession through the streets and everything connected with the marriage took place within the walls of the Berlin palace, the city residence of the Kaiser. Ten thousand inmates of the pauper institutions and prisons of Berlin were given a dinner at noon today at the expense of the Kaiser in honor of the wedding. The ceremonies connected with the wedding began with a family luncheon in the palace, attended by the immediate members of the Hohenzollern and Mecklenburg houses. Luncheon was a private affair, and it is not known whether the Kaiser delivered an address to the young couple or not. It is reported that he did. After the lunch the senior members of the two families and the bride and groom went into the new gallery, where the civil portion of the wedding ceremony, as required by German law, was performed by Count von Wedel, the minister of the imperial household. The ceremony was quite brief, and was more private than the luncheon had been, the only persons present being the participants, participating officials, the Kaiser's family and the bride and groom. No other members of the family not directly participating in the ceremonies were in attendance.

After entering the hall the Minister of the Imperial Household read the names of the bride and groom and of the witnesses, who were the Kaiser, Prince Henry of Prussia, Grand Duke Frederick Francis of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, the brother of the bride, and Duke John Albrecht of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Cecilia's cousin. The notary of the Imperial Household then read the terms of the marriage contract, which was drawn up after Cecilia's entry into the Imperial Palace, on Saturday. When this was done Count von Wedel stepped forward and asked the bride and groom individually whether they understood the terms of the contract, concerning which strict secrecy is maintained, and whether they were willing to have each other for man and wife. Both replied simply "yes."

During the final part of the civil ceremony one of the officers of the Gardes du Corps appeared in the room accompanied by two soldier sand two officials of the Treasury Department, of the Imperial Hohenzollern household. One of the officials carried, on a cushion of gold brocade, the crown of the Princesses of the Prussian royal house. It is a magnificent diamond ornament of six hoops of brilliants lined with red velvet and is of priceless value. The crown, after being shown to those participating in the civil ceremony, was carried to an adjoining room where the empress and her attending women awaited the bride.

The ceremonies attending the wedding in the chapel were on a scale befitting royalty. The procession was one of the most gorgeous affairs ever witnessed. The bride and groom took their places in the procession. They walked arm in arm, the Crown Prince being on the left of Cecilia. The bride wore a magnificent drap d'Argent dress of white cloth, so woven with silver threads as to resemble a shining mass of precious metal. The base material cost $2,000. The dress was embroidered with rich decorations in silver, and from her head streamed a long train, also a drap d'Argent, cut after the style of the mantle worn by the Empress Josephine, at the coronation of Napoleon. Her sleeves were short, but balloon shape, despite the protests of the Crown Prince, who, when the design of the sleeves was being discussed, unsuccessfully pitted his own tastes and influence against the decree of fashion. On her head Cecilia wore a bridal wreath of myrtle and orange blossoms, with a chain of diamonds entwined in her hair. When the wedding party had taken its place, Dr. Dryander delivered a short address of admonition to the young couple. Then addressing the bride, he said:

"I now ask your royal highess, Cecilia Augustine Marie, whether you will take his imperial highness, the German Crown Prince Frederick William Victor Auguste Ernest, as your lawful wedded husband."

The bride replied simply "Yes."

Then turning to the Crown Prince the chaplain repeated: "I now ask you, your imperial highness, Frederick William Victor Auguste Ernest, whether you are willing to take her royal highness, Duchess Cecilia Augustine Marie of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, as your lawful wedded wife."

The Crown Prince then replied "Yes."

The Crown Prince then placed a small gold ring, engraved with the date of today's ceremony, on the third finger of his bride's right hand and Cecilia placed a similar ring on the third finger of the Crown Prince's right hand. Then raising his hands the court chaplain pronounced a benediction.

The Crown Princess will be followed by her ladies in waiting, who will take off the crown and state diamonds that she has been wearing throughout the day, and will hand them to the treasury officials who will replace them in the palace vaults. The maids will then retire, followed by the mistress of the robes. The mistress of the robes will perform the last act of the day's ceremony by distributing among the ladies present bits of ribbon, inscribed with the name of the bride in silver, representing the garter of the bride, as is an ancient German custom. The guests will then leave the castle and the day's proceedings will come to an end.

Cecilia now, according to civil law, the Crown Princess of the German Empire, left her husband and the Kaiser and, accompanied by ladies in waiting, entered the room where the Empress remained with the crown.

The Empress standing in front of the ancient toilet table of Queen Louise, the mother of Emperor William I, greeted her daughter-in-law, and took her to the table, gilded and inlaid with costly mosaics. Cecilia sat in front of the table and the Empress placed the crown on her head, it being held in its place with hat pins like ordinary head covering. The wearing of the crown symbolized the fact that Cecilia had been admitted to the house of Hohenzollern with the full rank of Prussian Princess. The crown will not be removed from the Princess' head until late tonight, when she retires after the full days ceremony is completed.

Immediately Cecilia arose from the table a signal was given, all the church bells throughout Berlin pealed spreading the fact that Cecilia was no longer a simple Duchess of a poor minor German state but had become, within a few minutes, one of the greates princesses of the world, and the consort of the heir to the mightiest throne of the continent of Europe. Neither the Kaiser nor any other men were present, at the crowning ceremony, but as soon as it was completed a report was made to His Majesty, who gave the signal for the preparations to be made for the entrance into the palace chapel for the performance of the religious marriage ceremony.

A banquet will be given this evening in the palace, which will be attended by the wedding guests. The bride and groom and the members of the royal families will eat alone, the other guests being served in several of the palace halls.

Resignation of Minister Delcasse

Paris, June 6.—It is officially announced that M. Delcasse, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, has resigned. Premier Bouvier has assumed charge of the Foreign Office temporarily. The action of M. Delcasse in resigning it was said was prompted by the fresh crisis which has arisen in the Morroccan question. Owing to the refusal of the Sultan to accept French reform proposals several weeks ago when the Moroccan question was occupying the attention of the cabinet, to the exclusion of almost every other subject, M. Delcasse offered his resignation but was persuaded to continue. Ever since it had become known the Sultan failed to agree to the policy outlined by France, it has been rumored that unless the cabinet unanimously supported him in the policy he had pursued in the Meroccan affair, that the Foreign Minister would surrender his portfolio. Some of the ministers, it is reported, have been inclined to question the wisdom of Delcasse's plains in regard to Morocco, and it is understood this led to the resignation, as M. Delcasse did not relish this criticism on the part of the other ministers.

It is regarded as somewhat significant that the honor conferred upon Chancellor von Buelow by Kaiser Wilhelm, who has elevated his prime minister to the rank of prince, should have been announced on the very day when M. Delcasse resigned his position as French Minister of Foreign Affairs. The resignation of M. Declasse was undoubtedly caused on account of the Moroccan question and his retirement means that he failed in his policy toward that country. Von Buelow, who, as the Chancellor of the German Empire, conducted the German negotiations with the Sultan, through special embassies sent to Fez, which resulted in the rejection of the French plans for reforms in Morocco, is reward ed by the Kaiser, his diplomatic victory thus being openly considered. It was stated in governmental circles late this afternoon that Premier Bouvier, who assumed the duties of Foreign Minister upon the acceptance of M. Delcasse's resignation, will retain that portfolio permanently and that either Deputy Poincare or M. Merlou will succeed M. Rouvier as Minister of Finance.

Tornado.

Birmingham, N. Y., June 6.—One hundred thousand dollars is a conservative estimate of the damage done in this city about 10.30 o'clock.

Starting in a heavy rain just before 10 o'clock, the storm increased in intensity, and with an accompaniment of thunder and lightning, when, at 10:30, the climax was reached in a regular tornodo, which swept up the Susquehanna Valley and entered the fifth ward in its most populous section. From this point, a path varying in width, from 50 to 100 feet, and extending two miles to the city limits, was swept. Houses were unroofed, a dozen were blown down or overturned, windows in nearly every house were broken in, trees were uprooted by the score, and sidewalks turned over. Many strange freaks of the wind are reported, one woman being lifted up by the great suction of the wind and carried through a window, being deposited on the lawn. Trees are to be found on many roofs and roofs are lying in yards, many rods from their original locations. No fatalities are reported though many persons were cut by flying glass. The greatest in stance of individual damage will not amount to over $3,000 but over 200 houses suffered in the damage to a greater or less.

Startling Rumors.

New York, June 6.—There were rumors in Wall street this morning that a sensational foreign event had occurred but the gossips could not say definitely what it was. Some said the Czar was assassinated and others that it was Kaiser Wilhelm who was killed. Broker wires spread the news to other cities and many messages of inquiry were sent here. At 10:30 this morning no confirmation of the startling rumors had come from London or the continent. It develops that the rumor that the Czar had been assassinated was current on the Bourse in Berlin this morning, and was cabled to this city. The Berlin Bourse rumor had it that the Mendelsohns, bankers of the Russian government, had received a private telegram to that effect. At the offices of the Russian consul here it was stated that there was no intelligence of such a tragedy.

Whooping Cough in Jamaica.

Mr. J. Riley Bennett, a chemist of Brown's Town, Jamaica, West India Islands, writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has proved itself to be the best remedy for whooping cough, which is prevalent on this end of the globe. It has never failed to relieve in any case where I have recommended it, and grateful mothers, after using it, are daily thanking me for advising them." DIED.

On Tuesday morning, June 6, 1905, Mrs. HANNAH C. BOYD, aged 88 years. Funeral from the residence of her son, John T. Boyd, 427 Queen street, tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock. Interment on Thursday evening at 2:30 o'clock at Havre de Grace, Md.

Mother Slaps Son on Street

Cincinnati, June 6.—Smack! smack! smack! Mrs. Lewis F. Runck, an irate mother, landed on the cheeks of her 19-year-old son, Lewis, jr., on the street, in front of the Masonic Temple yesterday. In two minutes they were the centre of a huge crowd. The young man recently married Miss Blanche Taylor, and his parents have striven to have the marriage annulled because they object to his bride. Yesterday Mamie Runck met the couple and asked them to go with her and talk to Papa Runck farther down the street. When they met the elder Runck, however, he refused to notice the bride. The mother pleaded with her son to leave the girl. The young man made some inaudable reply which aroused her ire. Six times she swung her hand squarely against the ruddy cheeks. He took the chastisement unflinchingly. The bride, frightened, gazed mutely on. Then the mother and elder Runck departed. The elder Runck is a prominent Cincinnati manufacturer, and his family, including the son, moves in the best society of the city.

France Offers to Meditate.

Berlin, June 6.—The correspondent of the Publishers' Press is able to state authoritatively that the French government has instructed the French Ambassador at St. Petersburg to inform the Russian government that France is willing to act as meditator between Russia and Japan to bring about a cessation of hostilities. This communication was sent to the French Embassy immediately after the Russian naval defeat. Russia has given no reply as yet, as the Czar is undecided as to whether the war is to be continued or not. France is particularly anxious that her offer shall be accepted as she desires to play the part of mediator, and intends to prevent the United States from beating her and securing credit for ending the war. European diplomatists are watching with interest the race between France and America, to be the first with their offers of mediation, and to secure the recognition of the Czar.

Russian Budget.

St. Petersburg, June 6.—The Russian budget for 1905 which has been announced contains items providing for the expenditure of 8,691,580 roubles in the Kwang Tung peninsula, most of the money being appropriated for bettering the immigration facilities. The budget of the Minister of Marine also contains items amounting to 637,650 roubles for improvement of the harbor of Port Arthur. Recently the attention of the government was called to the fact of these items in the budget and the fact that both the Kwang Tung peninsula and Port Arthur have been taken by the Japanese. One of the chief officers of the Marine Department is quoted as replying: "What is that to us? We officials must supplement our salaries in some way."

Roused by a Medium.

St. Petersburg, June 6.—The correspondent of the Publishers' Press was informed by a high court dignitary that when the Czar was informed of the disaster suffered by Admiral Rojestvensky, he was completely overcome, and sank into a stupor from which he could not be aroused until a spiritualistic medium was sent for. The medium was sent to Tsarskoe-Selo for the express purpose of reviving the Czar from his stupor. The medium went into a trance and then exclaimed: "I see Nicholas on a white horse conquering a band of yellow men." When the Czar had sufficiently recovered, from his stupor he declared that he had decided to keep up the war.

Ultimatum Delivered.

Manila, June 6.—The ultimatum from Washington directing Admiral Enquist, commander of the Russian warships, which are now in the harbor, to either sail at the end of twenty-four hours or dismantle his ships was delivered to the admiral this morning by Executive Secretary Ferguson, who boarded the flagship to deliver the message. Admiral Enquist is waiting for instructions from St. Petersburg before announcing his intentions. The repairs to the damaged ships have already commenced.

Gaynor and Green.

Montreal, June 6.—In the case of the United States of America versus John F. Gaynor and Benjamin Green, who are wanted in the United States in connection with harbor frauds, at Savannah, Ga., Extradition Commissioner Lafontaine gave judgment this morning, committing the two men for extradition. He ordered them back to jail to await their surrender to United States officers.

Mrs. Pearl Hoy, wife of Mr. John Hoy, died suddenly at her home on Fairfax street, near Wolfe, last night. The deceased had apparently been in her normal health during the day with no symptoms of approaching illness when she was suddenly stricken with what was supposed to be acute indigestion. Her condition became alarming and later two physicians were summoned to her relief. They discovered that she was suffering from acute Bright's disease, and her death soon followed. Mrs. Hoy was a native of Washington.

Change in Music.

At St. Mary's Church on Sunday a letter was read to the congregation by the pastor, Rev. H. J. Cutler, from the Bishop of Richmond, directing that, in order to carry out the reforms in church music made by Pius X., a choir, composed either of boys or adults, or both combined, be trained in Gregorian music to sing at all the public services of the church. All modern music of a profane or theatrical character is to be rigorously excluded. Rev. Father Cutler announced in obedience to the order of the bishop that a meeting of the men of the parish would be held at the Lyceum next Sunday, when steps will be taken to organize a choir in accord with the wishes of the Pope. The change will be made next September.

The Carnival.

The Jones-Adams Carnival opened its engagement on the old fair grounds last night under the auspices of the Alexandria Light Infantry. A very large crowd was present and the various shows were well patronized. The trained wild animal show attracted a great deal of attention, large numbers wishing to see Isolde Russell enter the cage of "Wallace," the mad lion. Kelley's Old Plantation and the "Girls in Red," are making a hit with the crowds. The principal features of the Carnival are "Ina," the midget, and "Parkhurst," the man without bones. These two are curiosities of the highest order. No electricity could be gotten for the lights last night, but everything will be in readiness for tonight.

Fined for Assault.

Late Saturday night William and Louis Wiley entered Mr. Thomas Nugent's saloon, northeast corner of Gibbon and Pitt streets, and ordered beer for which they were unable to pay. The beer was put back of the counter by the bartender, and when Mr. Nugent appeared in the room the two men drew knives and flourished them about his head. The brothers finally made a hasty exit from the saloon and broke a large pane of glass in the door in passing out. Officers Allen and Bell arrested William Wiley and he was fined $5 in the Police Court this morning. His brother Louis could not be found.

Fined For Gambling.

Officers Beach and Nicholson last night arrested on the old fair gounds a young man named James McDonald who, it was alleged, was operating a gambling device in the shape of diminutive tenpins, each of which was numbered. A customer paid so much for the privilege of knocking down the pins, and the numbers exposed entitled him to a piece of cheap jewelry, or should he win a costly prize the proprietor could pay for the same in money. McDonald was arraigned in the Police Court this morning, fined $5 and his paraphernalia and stock confiscated.

The Firefighter.

As was stated in the Gazette, the Firefighter, the new boat built for the Commissioners of the District of Columbia by the Harlan & Hollingsworth Company at Wilmington, Del., passed up the river yesterday afternoon. Upon her arrival in Washington she was saluted by several excursion steamers which were preparing to leave their docks. The boat will not be put in commission before the 1st proximo. It is said that there are several defects in the Firefighter which are to be remedied before the boat will be accepted by the commissioners.

Dredging the River.

The big dredging machines employed in deepening the shoal spots in the river channel in the vicinity of Marshall Hall and near Clifton Beach are now winding up their work under the present appropriation, and within the next week, it is stated, will be ready to return to Baltimore, unless the War Department officials determine to use $10,000 appropriated by the last Congress. In that event the dredges will be kept at work until some time in July.

Police Court.

Rose Barrett, arrested by Officers Bettis and Nicholson charged with harboring minors, was fined $10.

Joseph Barrett and Richard Vaughn, arrested by Officers Smith and Nicholson charged with vagrancy, were fined $5 each, and Mary Vaughn, charged with a similar offense, was fined $10.

A donation of ten dollars towards the building fund was received from the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment Chapter, U. D. C. The committee on preparing the roster of the camp, reported progress. Other business of a private nature was transacted.

Gone to Hagerstown.

The Friendship Veteran Fire Association left this morning at half-past 8 o'clock for Hagerstown, Md., where they will participate in the festivities incident to the meeting of the Maryland Firemen's Convention. About 50 members of the organization took an electric train at the intersection of Royal and Prince streets at 8:30 o'clock for Washington, at which point they will take a Baltimore and Ohio train for Hagerstown. The new schedule will go into effect in a week or ten days. It is expected the section of the new double track from St. Asaph to Four-mile run will be ready for service in about two weeks. Work on it is now being pushed rapidly.

Struck by a Train.

A wagon belonging to Smoot & Co., loaded with building material, was struck by a train in the Washington and Ohio Railroad yard yesterday evening and the vehicle and contents smashed. Robert Goodrich, the driver, was painfully injured, as was also Washington Bird, colored, who was on the wagon at the time of the accident.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Six men were drowned, near Palermo, Sicily, today, during the course of experiments with a new submarine vessel.

The announcement is made that Kaiser William has raised Chancellor von Buelow, chancellor of the empire, to the rank of a prince in recognition of his excellent services in behalf of Germany.

A message received from Swatow, a treaty port in the province of Quaing-Tong, China, says that four Russian auxiliary cruisers and one large cruiser were sighted near that port on June 4.

A patriotic league, composed of high officials of Russia, has prepared a list of persons who are said to be traitors to their country, which has been presented to the government with a strong recommendation that the accused parties shall be dealt with according to martial law. This list is said to contain 3,000 names, among them being many prominent men. The action of the league has caused the greatest alarm among those who have taken an active part in the reform movement in Russia.

Cuban Diarrhoea.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I than God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. TO THE OWNERS OF DOGS.

Mayor's Office,
Alexandria, Va., June 1, 1905.

All persons owning or intending to keep any animal of the dog or canine species must come forward on or before and take out a license for the same from the Auditor. After the NINETEENTH OF JUNE all persons owning or harboring dogs without the required license can be fined (as the laws on the subject require) $5 for every dog so owned or harbored.

Complaint has been frequently made that many persons fail to take out their license, and that others pay on one or two dogs when owning and harboring more, or who send such dogs away during the summer months and bring them back in the fall.

Attention has been called to this evasion of the law, and the policemen will report all such cases, and fines can be imposed upon those who fail to take out licenses after trial in the Police Court.

The police officers will be required to report all violations of this law.

☞In order to avoid any mistakes persons who make application for licenses would do well to write their names and number of residence, street, &c., on a card or paper when making application for their licenses to the Auditor. FRED. J. PAFF, Mayor.

Trouble in a Park.

Three men are under arrest, one of them wounded by a pistol shot in a fight late Sunday night at Forest Hill Park, in Chesterfield county. James Vaughan is wounded, and the others are his brother, Jack Vaughan, and Edward Woods, foreman of the brass foundry of the Southern Railway shops. The alleged shooter is A. W. Koiner, who claims to be a Chicago detective. It is asserted that an organized gang has long infested Forest Hill Park. The method, it is said, has been to approach young couples strolling in the park after night and to force the man in each case to put up money under threat of arresting him and his companion on charges of unseemly conduct. To avoid puplicity it is said many have paid, Koiner a few weeks ago is said to have narrowly escaped being a victim of this gang and to have vowed vengeance. He visited the park Sunday night accompanied by J. S. House, a smooth-faced boy, who was disguised as a girl. The two made themselves conspicuous for a while, and it is claimed that the three men named posed as officers and threatened to arrest them unless Koiner paid up. One of them, it is said, tried to embrace Koiner's companion, but was knocked down by the supposed girl, who drew a revolver. Koiner did likewise, and in the affray Vaughan was shot in the leg. The three men deny the charge in toto, saying that Koiner and his companion were acting improperly and their only purpose was to preserved order. They were allowed bail and the case will be heard Friday.

Torture of a Preacher.

The story of the torture of Rev. O. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church, of Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: "I suffered agonies, because of a persistent cough, resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up in bed. I tried many remedies, without relief, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Coughs and Colds, which entirely cured my cough, and saved me from consumption." A grand cure for diseased conditions of Throat and Lungs. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists; price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Found a Cure for Dyspepsia.

Mrs. S. Lindsay, of Fort William, Ontario, Canada, who was suffering quite a number of years from dyspepsia and great pains in the stomach, was advised by her druggist to take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. She did so and says, "I find that they have done me a great deal of good. I have never had any suffering since I began using them." If troubled with dyspepsia or indigestion why not take these Tablets, get well and stay well? For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Quality vs. Quantity.

Hard muscles and strong body do not depend on the quantity of food you eat, but on its perfect digestion and proper assimilation. When you take Kodol Dyspesia Cure your system gets all the nourishment out of all the food you eat. It digests what you eat regardless of the condition of the stomach and conveys the nutrient properities to the blood and tissues. This builds up and strengthens the entire system. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Belching, Sour Stomach, Weak Heart, etc. Sold by W. F. Creighton, 401 King street, and corner Queen and Patrick.
